And the birds in sunny spring-time For their dulcet music sing. They are falling, sadly falling, Close beside our cottage door; Pale and faded like the loved ones, They are gone forevermore.
They are falling, and the sunbeams
Shine in beauty soft around;
Let the faded leaves are falling,
Falling on the mossy ground.

They are fulling on the streamlet, They are falling in the churchyard Where our kindred sweetly sleep. Where the idle winds of summer Softly o'er the leved one sweep

They are falling, over falling, Where the summer breezes sight where the stars in boouty glisten Bright upon the midnight sky. They are falling when the tempe-Moans like ocean's bollow roar; When the tuneful winds and billow:

They are falling, they are falling, While our saddened hearts still go to the sunny days of childhood, In the sunny days of childhood, In the dreamy long ago; And their faded thees remind us Of the blasted hopes and dreams, Ended like the faded leafleds Cast upon the key streams.

Among other things captured with John Brown and his followers at Harper's Ferry, Va., Oct. 18, 1859, was a written documen styled-"Provinional Constitution and Ordi nances for the People of the United States" This document looked to the ultimate control of the United States by the Brownists, the abolition of slavery and the government of the country upon the basis of that Constitution as the fundamental law, In the face of the signal and total failur of Brown's attempt to set up his government-an attempt not more rash than that of Louis Napoleon, when he first sought to overthrow the government of Francewas pretended by his friends, and believe by others, that Brown was insane.

This belief caused no attention to t seemed to be so monstrous, impractionble, so at variance with all past American teachings, and supposed American views of government, so impossible of adoption, that a glance at its provisions confirmed the belief in the settled insanity of its author, or authors. It soon passed out of mind and was wholly forgotten by the public. After the close of our great sectional war, when Radical plans of reconstruction, so called, began to be discussed, adopted and acted upon, the writer thought he remembered having read something some where that was very much the same as cumstances can allow of it, but they shall this Radical programme. No such proposition wa ever before uttered in the United States and it is at war with every principle upon which just and stable government is found ed, and strikes down the liberty to oppose, legi imately, the dominant party; assuming that it can do no wrong, and that all who oppose it must be wrong; and not only wrong, but actuated by motives so criminal as justly to deprive them of all rights under their government. It makes government care alone, for the members of the ruling party, and not for their opponents, except to war upon and oppress them. I am free to confess that I now of no remeety recommended by the ticle of the kind. I am free to confess that i know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary they are incertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine directly from you. It I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the REGULAR line of M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarging a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of tscombination. For my part, I shall make it ruleto use all and any means to alleviate suffe h jhumanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge.
